NOTES.

In the summary, A A, the accounts of the Farmers and Planters' Bank are not included, inasmuch as it is one of the new banks, and its accounts belong rather to the epoch of 1836–'37, than to that of 1835–'36. On the 15th of December, it had been but seventy-three days in operation. In a letter of that date, the cashier says, "the amount of capital subscribed is $592,325, which is being paid in by regular instalments. The books are still open for subscriptions, and it is expected that the stock ($2,000,000) will be filled up when the pressure on the money market subsides."

The Legislature of Maryland, at the December session of 1835, incorporated eleven new banks, with an aggregate capital of $16,100,000.—See C C.
