The above table is believed to embrace all the banks in operation in the different States, with a few exceptions. Among the exceptions are the Mechanics' Bank, at Wilmington, Delaware, and a bank at Galveston, Texas, each with a capital of $100,000.

The 311 banks in the State of New York are exclusive of 40 others that are winding up their affairs.

The apparent increase in the "other liabilities" of the South Carolina banks is in consequence of [illegible] being placed under that head about $3 000,000, which had been heretofore tabulated as "capital."

The apparent increase in the "capital" and "real estate" of the Georgia banks is in consequence of the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company being included in the above table. No statement of its condition for 1856 was received, and it does not appear in the secretary's report for that year. Its capital amounts to $[illegible], and its real estate to $4,296,008.
