You will perceive by the foregoing statement, that only three of our directors come within the enquiry, and indeed only one more can be said, is indebted to us at all; for of the nine remaining, owning two hundred and sixty shares of stock, two occasionally borrow small sums on a pledge of stock, and the others not a cent; and being deeply interested in preparing for specie payments as soon as possible, they have determined on a general curtail, although by voluntary curtailments, our outstanding debt has been decreased in twelve months upwards of five hundred thousand dollars.

All of our large debts, (with the exception of one company,) and a great many small ones, have originated by our discounting drafts considered good on the north and elsewhere, which were protested and returned to us. Customers then were allowed a discount on depositing the original acceptances, &c. as security, paying up damages and costs, curtailing the debt every 60 days, and regularly paying the discount at each renewal.

Given under our hands and seals this 31st January, 1838.

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS.

The cashier of the Bank of Virginia, as additional reply to the resolution of the house of delegates of the 18th January, 1838, requiring "a statement of the amount of accommodation, other than suspended debt, due to the bank and unpaid for three years or more previous to the 1st January, 1838; the amount due and unpaid for less than three and more than two; the amount due and unpaid for less than two and more than one; and the amount of debt on which the discounts or curtailments, or either of them, have not been paid during the preceding year," reports that the amount of regular or accommodation paper due and unpaid on the

1st January, 1835, was	-	$1,105,490 20
1st January, 1836,	-	1,138,060 87
1st January, 1837,	-	1,433,676 06
1st January, 1838,	-	1,548,394 97

All the interest which accrued, and the curtailments required on the debts constituting the above sums, have been paid.

It is only on suspended debts that the accruing interest has not been regularly paid. A statement of that has been furnished.

The increase of the accommodation debt in 1837 was occasioned by the purchase of the accommodation debt of the office of the Bank of the United States; and the increase shewn in this year is occasioned by the pressure of the past year, many debts made upon business paper being necessarily placed as accommodation debts.

To ARTHUR SMITH, Esq. Chairman of Bank Committee.

SIR,

You will find accompanying this letter, statements from the offices of this bank at Norfolk, Fredericksburg, Lynchburg, Danville and Buchanan, responsive to the resolution of your committee of the 18th ult.; also a statement from this bank, giving information required under that resolution, which it was considered had not been afforded by a former statement.

Similar returns have not yet been made from the offices of Petersburg and Charleston; but as the last place is so distant that the return may not be received in season for the action of the committee, I deemed it advisable not to delay complying with the object of the resolution, so far as it could be complied with. If the return from Petersburg has not been forwarded from that office directly to you, it will be so forwarded with little delay.

I am, respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

A. ROBINSON, JR. Cash'r.

BANK OF VIRGINIA, 7th February, 1838.

ARTHUR SMITH, Esq. Chairman Bank }
Committee of House of Delegates. }

In accordance to a resolution of the select committee of the house of delegates appointed to examine into the condition of the banks of this commonwealth, adopted on the 18th instant, communicated to the president of the Bank of Virginia, through the chairman of the said committee, the cashier of the Bank of Virginia respectfully states:

That to enable him with the greatest despatch, and at the same time with the greatest practicable precision, to afford to the committee the information required by the said resolution, he has had reference to lists of balances which were prepared by the discount clerk on the 21st day of February, 1837, and on the 1st day of January, 1838, taken from the discount ledger of the bank, and used for the information of the board of directors at those periods. By those lists, and by examinations of the suspended debts, it appears, that at the times stated, the greatest amount of debt due from any individual, firm or company, was $ 117,400.

That there was but one debt at the periods stated, due from individuals, firms or companies, to the same amount.

That on the 1st February, 1837, of the outstanding debts of the bank—

33 loans were made to individuals, firms or companies, amounting to	10,000 00 and upwards.
14 " " " " " "	20,000 00 "
4 " " " " " "	50,000 00 "
1 " " " " " "	100,000 00 "

That on the 1st January, 1838—

32 loans were made to individuals, firms or companies, amounting to	10,000 00 "
12 " " " " " "	20,000 00 "
8 " " " " " "	50,000 00 "
1 " " " " " "	100,000 00 "

It also appears by examinations in the same manner, that there were on the 21st February, 1837, about 526 accounts in the bank of the character of payers or makers of notes or bills.

And on the 1st January, 1838, about 667 accounts of same description.

This statement, however, does not comprehend accounts of persons standing in the character of endorsers, or of acceptors of bills payable at distant places; nor does it include drafts or checks at sight, or having short periods to run, nor sterling bills, nor any paper held as collateral security for debts.

The cashier is at a loss to understand the point, or object of enquiry, designed by the second part of the resolution, but supposing that a statement of the suspended debt at the several periods stated, is all that is sufficient to afford to the committee information of the inactive part of the outstanding debt at Richmond, if that is desirable, now states:

That the suspended debt on the 1st January, 1835, was $	168,360 66
"	1836, 157,124 82
"	1837, 162,803 23
"	1838, is now 491,730 20

CITY of RICHMOND, Sct :

A. Robinson jr. cashier of the Bank of Virginia, made oath before me, a justice of the peace for the city aforesaid, that the foregoing statement is true according to the best of his knowledge. Given under my hand this 22d day of January 1838.

EDMUND BAILEY, J. P.

A. ROBINSON, JR. Esq.

DEAR SIR,

Agreeably to your instruction the annexed statement is forwarded.

Yours respectfully,

THOM. WILLIAMSON, Cash'r.

January 31st, 1838.

OFFICE BANK OF VIRGINIA,
NORFOLK, January 30, 1838.

In conformity with a resolution of the committee (appointed by the legislature of Virginia,) on the subject of banks, passed the 13th inst. and received at this office the 27th, the following statement is respectfully submitted:

1. The largest amount due by any individual, firm or company, on the 1st of January, 1837,
amounted to	31,000 00
And on the 1st of January, 1838,	64,000 00
2. No loan of the same amount has been granted to any individual, firm or company.
3. No loan over one hundred thousand dollars.
Two over 50,000, and less than	100,000 00
Two over 20,000, and less than	50,000 00
Five of 10,000 and over, but less than	20,000 00

4. There are about one hundred and sixty individuals, firms and companies, indebted to this bank, consisting of sixty-eight merchants, nineteen farmers, nine doctors, four printers, three lawyers, four navy officers, three customhouse officers, three tailors, three blacksmiths, two hatters, two members of the assembly, two judges, one mail contractor, milliners, spinsters and widows, &c. &c., not omitting two or three poor bank officers. With very little variation they remain nearly the same, although every week produces some change, as they are all undergoing a curtail.

5. The amount of accommodation (other than the suspended debt) which was granted to forty-five customers upwards of three years ago, was $90,000, of which about $60,000 has been renewed over three years, $75,000 has been renewed over two years, and $90,000 has been renewed above one year.

6. The debt on which discounts or curtailments have not been paid the last year, is about $14,000, caused by the stoppage of a firm, who made a deed in trust, and the trustee, as yet, has not received or paid any of their debts. On all discounted paper renewed during the past year, discounts and curtailments have been regularly exacted and generally paid, with a few exceptions of trifling amount, which will probably be paid up at the next renewal of their paper.

The voluntary and forced curtail of this office has been, in one year, ending 1st January, 1838, the enormous sum of $543,378.

All the large amounts, say above $10,000, and many below that sum, now due the office, (except one company,) have originated by discounting business drafts on the north, which came back to us protested. The customers, them who had procured the discounts, were called on to give notes for the whole amount, damages, costs and principal, to be renewed every sixty days, to undergo a curtail, and pay up the interest regularly, which, so far, has been done, and, as security, the bank retaining the original bill, protest, &c. until the whole amount should be paid.

Our accommodation notes are of three classes, the first secured by stock, second by real estate and endorsement, and the last by endorsement only. The whole considered good and available, being under the control of the board, who may order sales in the first and second case, and suits on the last at discretion.

Should any other information be required which is in our power, we will with pleasure give it, and in the shortest time.

Respectfully submitted,

THOM. WILLIAMSON, Cash'r,
WILLIAM B. LAMB,
ELIE BARROT,

NORFOLK BOROUGH, sct:

Ditto ditto for less than two and more than one,	72,190 00

There are no debts upon which the discounts and curtailments, or either, have not been paid during the preceding year. There is, however, a balance of a debt, $500 only, upon which the discount or interest has not been paid since April last, and which debt has been suffered to lie over, in consequence of the repeated promises of the makers to pay in some short time, and it was thought the money could be made earlier by the indulgence than by suit, as the parties are perfectly good.

Some 4 or 500 dollars of interest and curtailments were unpaid on the first day of January, 1838, but were settled a few days thereafter; the amounts were due by country debtors.

For five or six years previously to the close of the year 1831, the amount of accommodation absorbed the whole, or nearly the whole of our active capital.

Since that time, the policy of this office has been materially changed, which has been brought about by gradually curtailing old debts, and not granting new accommodation for long or indefinite periods. The object was to place the office in a situation to be enabled to grant immediate facilities to all persons engaged in active business, by discounting all good business paper, and to render a larger proportion of the outstanding debt of the office available and under its control, than whilst it remained in the shape of accommodation paper.

The effect of this policy has been not only to benefit the stockholders by enabling the office to make larger dividends, but to afford greater facilities to the active business and enterprise of the community.
